Sikkens Adds Perfect Finish To New Cornish Hotel

When completed, the new Cornwall Hotel Spa and Estate at Tregorrick is destined to be one of the region's most exciting attractions. To fit in with the stringent and sustainable specification brief, products from Sikkens are being used throughout. For the exterior wood detailing of these luxury and top quality lodges, Sikkens Cetol BL21 plus and Cetol BL31 woodstain system has been specified. The chosen Sikkens system is quick drying and benefits from low odour whilst maintaining excellent absorption into the timber for optimum protection against weathering and UV damage. The aesthetic appearance of the lodges was a vital part of the project. The local environment and the existing country house which dates back to the nineteenth century, were key influences in the colour scheme. As one of the area's most prestigious and luxury developments, the Cornwall Hotel Spa and Estate exudes quality – using the Sikkens products to coat the timber frame lodges in the grounds both internally and externally assures long term durability and lasting natural beauty for the timber content.
