Royal visitor to open £30m hotel and spa

THE Countess of Wessex will visit the Westcountry next month to officially open the new Cornwall Hotel Spa Estate.

The multi-million pound estate is set in Victorian Parkland on Pentewan Road, Tregorrick, near St Austell, and has been undergoing extensive renovation for more than a year.

The development will be made up of the country home, converted into a 65-bedroom hotel, a spa, two restaurants and 22 luxury woodland homes for sale and holiday rental.

The £30 million project will open to the public on February 24, with Countess Sophie, the wife of Prince Edward, performing the official launch on March 8.
